

Lenny Audition Side

It's Meg! I could just wring her neck! I could just wring it! She lied! She sat in that hospital room and shamelessly lied to Old Granddaddy. She went on and on telling such untrue stories and lies. For one thing, she said she was gonna have an RCA record coming out with her picture on the cover, eating pineapples under a palm tree.

I know she isn't because she sat here this very afternoon and told me how all that she's done this whole year is work as a clerk for dog food company. And then she goes on to say that she'll be appearing on the Johnny Carson show in two weeks time. Two weeks' time! Why, Old Granddaddy's got a TV set right in his room. Imagine what a letdown it's gonna be.

Oh, and she told him the reason she didn't use the money he sent her to come home Christmas was that she was right in the middle of making a huge multi-million-dollar motion picture and was just under too much pressure. The movie's coming out this spring. It's called "Singing in a Shoe Factory." But she only has a small leading role -- not a large leading role. I'm sizzling. Oh, I just can't help it! I'm sizzling!

Who ate this candy? My one birthday present, and look what she does! Why, she's taken one little bite out of each piece and then just put it back in! Ooh! That's just like her! That is just like her! It gets me mad! It gets me upset! Why, Meg's always run wild -- she started smoking and drinking when she was fourteen years old, she never made good grades -- never made her own bed! But somehow she always seemed to get what she wanted. She's the one who got singing and dancing lessons; and a store-bought dress to wear to her senior prom. Why do you remember how Meg always got to wear twelve jingle bells on her petticoats, while we were only allowed to wear three apiece? Why?! Why should Old Grandmama let her sew twelve golden jingle bells on her petticoats and us only three!!!
